All human beings are capable of achieving their full potential regardless of their physical, mental, or developmental limitations, if they are provided with a suitable nurturing environment, and are provided with opportunities for growth. Social Health Services Group, Inc. provides such an environment.

SHSG, fills a niche in supporting individuals who have coexisting mental health conditions along with developmental disabilities. Residential living is a viable alternative to long-term institutionalization.

Our individuals are afforded the opportunity to live a quality life, in a less restrictive community residential setting.
